

Brenda McNulty is the Chief of Pediatric and Orthodontics for Jameson Management and Marketing. In her 26 years in the dental field she has acted as a dental assistant, business team member, practice administrator, corporate trainer. Prior to her current position, she owned her own company Rocky Mountain Dental Consulting.

Brenda prides herself with reigniting teams with their passion for dentistry while focusing on systems that will benefit the overall success of the practice. Her recognition of the unique aspects of a specialty practice makes her one of the industries experts in the pediatric and orthodontic community.

She is an accomplished author, national speaker, and an avid volunteer. Besides her family and faith, her immediate passions are children's dentistry and veteran's appreciation. Brenda has been a volunteer with the Young Marines of the Marine Corps League since 2002 and has served as the National Young Marine Coordinator for Navajo Code Talker Day since 2006. She has also been recently appointed as Chairman of the Board for the Non-Profit children's dental mission program The Smile Foundation.
