Biography

Sonja Lauren Author, National Public Speaker, COA

Born into poverty, in West Virginia, where she suffered extreme childhood abuse and dental neglect, Ms. Lauren was forced to wear dentures at the young age of 13 after the dentists wrote “situation hopeless” on her dental records. Now living in Virginia, Ms. Lauren became the author of The Covered Smile in 2003. Since the release of her book, she has become a professional member of the National Speakers Association. As a national public speaker and educator, she has become an advocate for dental professionals, public health services, child abuse and dental neglect issues. Ms. Lauren is a master educator on topics such as The Covered Smile lecture series, dental office management skills, treatment planning presentation and increasing production and productivity. She has become known as ‘The Covered Smile Lady’.
