

I have been in the dental field for well over a decade and I was a part of the Beta testing for the Dentrrix G series when it was introduced in 1997. I have continued to be a beta tester for each of the new updates in the G series. I absolutely have a Passion for the dental industry and computer IT. I went to school to become an accountant. Because my mom was a CPA. And I had started at a very young age helping her with bookkeeping. She was a partner in a large accounting firm in Mesa Arizona for almost 30 years. I decided that I hated taxes and I really did not want to pursue that career path once I was married and started my family. My husband's career has moved us around frequently and I started my company so that I could one help dental offices understand how the software was designed to be customized to help make their jobs easier and get the data accurate in their system so that they could track their profits. And to so that I could have a career that did not interfere with my husband's moving and his adventurous spirit. I am a mother of 4 adult children. And a grandmother of 4. I am a first time empty nester. I am sending my youngest off to liberty University after her mission trip to South Africa next month. I love to travel, I have traveled both years to delivering wow in Jamaica. I attended WRDE in Scottsdale Arizona. I was honored and privileged to be the introduction to Heidi mount and banal in Oregon last October. I have also then honored to attend the dental win win summit in Texas. I am an AADOM long standing member.
